Decision Due Today On Scope of Coalition

Jerusalem Post Political Reporter
Today's meeting of "Haveron" will have to decide whether to continue talks for a broad seven-party coalition, or whether to form a smaller coalition of Mapai, General Zionists, Agudat Yisrael and perhaps the Progressives.
"Haveron," Mapai's policy making body, is meeting today to sum up the first round of the coalition talks. It is understood that if the proposal for a narrower coalition is accepted, the Government will be formed by Mapai, General Zionists, Agudat Yisrael and perhaps the Progressives.
Prime Minister Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Golda Meir are to meet today to discuss various problems concerning Mrs. Meir's decision as to whether she will retain her post as Foreign Minister.
It is understood that the precise definition of Mr. Abba Eban's future functions as Minister without Portfolio is to be one of the main issues in question.
Mrs. Meir is also expected to reiterate the need for full coordination and cooperation between the Foreign Ministry and the Ministry of Defense, particularly in view of the proposed appointment of Mr. Shimon Peres as Deputy Minister of Defense.

Mapai-Progressives Due To Meet in Tel Aviv

The Political Committee of the Progressive Party convened in Tel Aviv on Monday and decided to enter into discussions with Mapai concerning the Tel Aviv municipality coalition.
This is taken to mean that the Progressives have given up their claim to the mayor's office, and that they are no further obstacle to their joining a Mapai-led coalition.
A committee composed of Messrs. Zeev Ostreicher, chairman of the Tel Aviv branch, Y. Artzi, Secretary of the party, I. Cohen M.K., and Y. Shaari of the Hatzadim Central Committee was named to conduct the discussions. It is assumed that the committee will meet Mapai representatives today (Tuesday).
Mapai representatives met outgoing Deputy Mayor A. Boyar and Mr. Zvi Bernstein, of the National Religious Party, on Monday for a talk which lasted nearly an hour. Mr. Boyar, who is expected to be elected deputy mayor, said that he was not taking to this effect was given by Mapai.
Mr. Y. Heled of Ahud Ha'avoda also met Mr. Shechter and Mr. Rabinovitch of Mapai during the day.
The crucial negotiations now being conducted with the General Zionists, whose entry into the coalition may result in a city administration representing political trends except Herut and the Communists.

Aguda Spurns Mapai-Led Coalition in Capital

The Agudat Yisrael spokesman in Jerusalem on Monday vigorously denied reports that his party would join in a Mapai-led coalition in the Municipality.
The religious parties in the Municipality, Agudat Yisrael, National Religious and the Religious Council, continued to insist that they would settle for nothing less than the majority. Representatives of the parties held a meeting in the city today evening to discuss their next move.
Asked whether the religious parties would accept Herut as a coalition partner—the only possible partner for Mapai—spokesmen of all parties said "it is possible." Nevertheless, it is understood that there is opposition in the ranks of all parties, especially Agudat Yisrael, to co-opting Herut into a religious-led coalition.

East, West Must Agree On 'Rules of Game'—Herter

NEW YORK.—Secretary of State Christian Herter said yesterday that Russia and the West must agree on "rules of the game" for co-survival and to avoid the mutual suicide of a nuclear war.
The U.S. welcomed competition and was ready to join in "finding ways of making the world more peaceful," he said in a speech here.
Mr. Herter declared that the present series of high-level meetings between East and West meant "that a new process of communication may be developing." He believed it was possible to find a common language on certain fundamentals "because we have a mutual interest: the basic will to survive."
Addressing the National Foreign Trade Council, he said the competition in peace "will take courage of a high order and strong nerves over a long time."

Israel and Arabs Clash Again over Refugees

UNITED NATIONS (Reuters).—Israel and Arab spokesmen clashed in the General Assembly's Special Political Committee again yesterday after Mr. Nadim Dimechkie, of Lebanon, accused Israel of "driving the refugees out like cattle."
Mr. Michael Comay, vice-chairman of the Israel delegation, pointed out that the refugees left their own free will after Arab leaders had urged them to seek a place of safety while the Arabs wiped out Israel.
Mr. Ahmed Shukriyeh, Saudi Arabian delegate, said the responsibility for the 1948 war was irrelevant. The issue, he said, was the refugees' right to repatriation, which Israel refused to consider.
Mr. Comay said the delegates of Saudi Arabia and Lebanon had attacked the leaders of Israel for what they were supposed to have done in 1948. "When we try to set the record straight, we are told it is irrelevant. We did not initiate this discussion about the war."

World Parley Opens On Atomic Waste

MONTE CARLO (Reuters).—Prince Rainier III of Monaco yesterday opened a conference of 300 scientists and atomic experts here in the first world-wide attempt to solve the problems of radioactive waste disposal.
Geologists, oceanographers and specialists in fisheries and agriculture from 30 countries are among those taking part.

42 Feared Dead As U.S. Airliner Crashes in Sea

NEW ORLEANS (UPI).—A National Airlines DC-7, carrying 42 persons on a midnight flight across the Gulf of Mexico, crashed into the open waters early yesterday, apparently killing all aboard. Search planes reported a number of bodies, many clad in life preservers, floating in the area—about 120 miles east-south-east of New Orleans.
Debris and pathetically empty life rafts bobbed in the turbulent waters.
The wreckage was discovered by another National Airlines plane approximately 120 miles east-south-east of New Orleans in about 90 feet of water. The tail was sticking above the surface.
The coast guard at Mobile said that although the wreckage was mostly intact, a number of pieces of debris littered the surface in the area.
The plane was on the Tampa-New Orleans leg of a Miami-Los Angeles flight. It carried 38 passengers, five crew members and a man believed to be with the Federal Aeronautics Administration.
Both sides are understood to be agreed on the need for removing the Chief Rabbinate from the political struggle. Up to now it has been mainly under the control of the National Religious Party.
B-G for Small Cabinet
While Mr. Ben-Gurion is expected to support the forming of a small Cabinet quickly, other Mapai leaders, such as Finance Minister Levi Eshkol and the Mapai Secretary-General, Dr. Giora Josephthal, are understood to be pressing for a broad coalition from the very outset, even if negotiations for such a Government should take several weeks. They believe that in view of the economic problems ahead the next government coalition should be as wide as possible.
It is believed that the left-wing parties will be permitted freedom to vote on the main issues, but will be required to accept Cabinet discipline on all other issues, or else resign.

Paris Wants Short Pre-Summit Talks

LONDON (Reuters).—Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told the Commons here yesterday that he understood from his talks with French leaders in Paris last week that the idea was to hold a short meeting between Western leaders immediately before a summit conference of the four big powers.
Mr. Lloyd said that the matter would be discussed at the first Western summit meeting in Paris in December.
The Foreign Minister said that during his visit to Paris "I was much encouraged by the warmth of my welcome."
In answer to questions, Mr. Lloyd said he had not received the impression that France would defer possible atomic tests in the Sahara while the Geneva talks, on discontinuation of atomic bomb tests, were under way.
Dr. Konrad Adenauer, the West German Chancellor, arrives here by air today for a two and a half day visit in a bid to put relations between Britain and West Germany on a smoother basis.
Diplomatic observers expected two subjects to dominate the discussions between the German leader and Prime Minister Macmillan and Mr. Selwyn Lloyd. These were a summit conference and European trading differences.

Hunt for Child Snatched By Deranged Neighbour

TEL AVIV.—Dozens of policemen are searching for a seven-year-old girl from Pardes Katz, Dahlia Eliahu, who was kidnapped yesterday morning by a neighbour, a mentally unbalanced woman. The woman, Mrs. Aziza Zadka, 30, was detained by the police in the afternoon as she was trying to drown herself off the Jaffa beach, but the child is still missing.
Neither the efforts of the police nor the entreaties of the girl's mother have been successful in eliciting any information as to the girl's whereabouts from the woman. Late last night, doctors elicited from Mrs. Zadka that she had, in fact, taken the child, but that she left her after a while in Pardes Katz.
The Zadka and Eliahu families each have three children.
Dahlia attends "Yessodot" School, and normally begins her lessons at 1 p.m. in the second shift; but she did not turn up at class yesterday.
Eliahu is 1.30 metres tall and of slight build, she has a light complexion, blue eyes and brown curly hair. She was wearing a dress with white stripes. She is of the Jewish community and speaks Hebrew and Arabic.

East, West Must Agree On 'Rules of Game'—Herter

NEW YORK.—Secretary of State Christian Herter said yesterday that Russia and the West must agree on "rules of the game" for co-survival and to avoid the mutual suicide of a nuclear war.
The U.S. welcomed competition and was ready to join in "finding ways of making the world more peaceful," he said in a speech here.

Addressing the National Foreign Trade Council, he said the competition in peace "will take courage of a high order and strong nerves over a long time."

U.S. Trade Policy To Non-Communist World

To the non-Communist world, Mr. Herter pledged that the U.S. "has no intention of retreating from America's basic policies of liberal trade." But he said that the newly-prosperous areas of the non-Communist world, such as Western Europe and Japan, must open their doors to more American exports and to help the U.S. provide additional capital to underdeveloped nations of the world.
Only with such help, Mr. Herter said, can the U.S. solve its balance-of-payments problem without restricting its trade abroad.
In another policy announcement, Mr. Herter said that the Development Loan Fund will take over more of the development programmes now conducted by the International Cooperation Administration.
For the present, he said, the ICA will continue its policies permitting countries receiving dollar grants to fill their needs by buying on the world market.
The Development Loan Fund announced last month that it will require countries receiving loans to spend more of the money in the U.S. than they have in the past.

EL AL PILOT REJECTS UNWILLING PASSENGERS

VIENNA (Reuters).—An El Al pilot on Sunday refused to fly with a Polish refugee family whom the Austrian authorities wanted to send to Israel against their will.
Simeon Swerdlowski, his wife and two-year-old daughter, Eva, arrived in Austria from Poland some months ago. He declared he wanted to emigrate to Israel, but on arrival in Austria he was asked for political asylum and said he wanted to go to the U.S.
As his permit to stay in Austria had expired and he still had no visa for America, the Austrian authorities decided to deport him and his family to Israel.
He was put on a plane for Lodz on Sunday morning by the Austrian police.
But the Israeli pilot refused to fly with "unwilling" passengers on security grounds and after two hours the family was taken off the plane again and taken back to prison.
The Swerdlowskis were delighted as they hope to get their visa for America shortly.

Nehru Rejects Peking Plan As 'Impracticable'

NEW DELHI (UPI).—Prime Minister Nehru told the opening winter session of Parliament on Monday that recent Chinese Communist proposals for settling the Sino-Indian border dispute were "impracticable."
He said he was willing to meet Chinese Premier Chou En-lai as suggested by Chou in a recent note, but that some "preliminary steps" were necessary first.
Mr. Nehru also told Parliament that India has made counter-proposals to Chou and that these would be made public as soon as the Chinese Premier had received them.
Earlier, Government sources said China would have to withdraw from disputed border areas before any talks are held.
Chou had suggested setting up a 25-mile-wide buffer zone through the disputed areas. Indian officials said this would not get the Chinese out of territory claimed by India, and it was believed India would reject this proposal.
Parliament agreed to hold a foreign policy debate on the border issue on Wednesday of next week. Observers predicted it would be one of the stormiest in recent Parliamentary history.
The Government yesterday presented a White Paper on recent notes, memoranda and letters exchanged between Peking and New Delhi, and this is expected to be debated next week.
While Parliament was in session, about 500 members of India's right-wing Jan Sangh party demonstrated outside, demanding action to "evict the Chinese from Indian territory."

Gadna Runners Bring Good News To 120 of Fourth Knesset

By ZEEV SCHUL
Jerusalem Post Reporter
TEL AVIV.—"Mr. Representative, we have been instructed by the Chairman of the Fourth Knesset's Election Committee to hand over to you this certificate, nominating you a representative of the people in the Knesset."
This message, and the accompanying certificate, were relayed yesterday to all of the 120 members of the Fourth Knesset, by runners of the Gadna Youth Battalion, covering the length and breadth of the country in a small fleet of buses, taxis and on foot.
Each team of one boy and one girl were entrusted with the precious transparent plastic-covered certificates, informing the addressee of his nomination according to Paragraph 40 of the Knesset Election Law, and certified by Mr. Justice Sussman as Chairman of the Election Committee.
The 240 youngsters, smartly turned out in their green shirts, fimbriated hats and insignia, were tense and shivering in the cutting cold of the early morning. They were waiting in the courtyard of the Z.O.A. House, the runners braved lashing gusts of wind which preceded the rain squalls to fall later that day.
Neatly executed drill, performed with the precision of old-timers, heralded the arrival of Mr. Justice Sussman and Aluf-Mishne Nishri, exactly on schedule at 9 a.m.
"We are about to create a new tradition," Mr. Justice Sussman told his young audience. "It was decided to entrust you as runners in order to have you participate as representatives of the younger generation in the democratic nomination procedure of our legislative body." He concluded his brief address by wishing the runners success and God-speed in their mission.
Sergeants of the six platoons sent to the different parts of the country were then called up to receive the certificates and distributed them in turn to each pair. Finally, the lists of the Fourth Knesset Members were read out, in alphabetic order, beginning with the Finance Minister, Mr. Levi Eshkol.
To a concluding roll of the drums and bugles, the runners were called out to the courtyard and towards the cavalcade of waiting cars.

Pope to Create 8 New Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (Reuters).—Pope John XXIII announced Monday that he would create eight new Cardinals at a Consistory on December 14.
The Cardinals-designate are: Archbishop Aloisius Joseph Muench, 70, Bishop of Regensburg; Archbishop William J. Conway, 68, of Pittsburgh; Archbishop Gregory Mayer, 65, of Chicago; Monsignor Paolo Maria Calchi Novati, 64, of Rome; Monsignor Francesco Morano, Secretary of the Supreme Tribunal of the Apostolic See; Monsignor Antonio Riboldi, Secretary of the Pontifical Council for the Pastoral Care of the German People; Monsignor Arcadio Larraona, a Spaniard, Secretary of the Vatican's Congregation supervising the world's Catholic religious orders.
The new College of Cardinals will number 31 Italians and 18 non-Italians, seven will be French, six United States, five Spanish, four German, and three Brazilian, British, and Portuguese.
The Argentine and Canadian will have two each.

Two Congressmen Here on Visit

The Chairman of the U.S. Congress Sub-Committee on Foreign Trade, Mr. Hale Boggs (Dem., Louisiana), and Mr. Thaddeus Machrowicz (Dem., Michigan), member of the committee, arrived yesterday via Mandelbaum Gate for a four-day visit, attending the GATT conference in Tokyo.
The guests are to be received today by the Minister of Commerce and Industry, Mr. P. Sapir; the Assistant Director-General of the Foreign Ministry for Economic Affairs, Mr. Moshe Bartur; and the Director of the Israel Investment Centre, Mr. Aharon Gilat.

Mrs. Ben-Zvi Lectures

On Burmese Women

ASHKELOH. — The rights of the Burmese woman, her respected position in the nation, her culture and public life and the deep sense of human equality possessed by the Burmese people were among the points stressed by Mrs. Rachel Ben-Zvi in a lecture before Ashkelon teachers and educators on Sunday.

After describing the similarities between Israel and Burma, she went on to mention the differences. Mrs. Ben-Zvi emphasized the deep tranquility and high moral standards of the Burmese people.

Football Field In

Memory of Pilot

The Richard Glasberg Football Field was opened at Kibbutz Hasoleim on Saturday afternoon with a friendly match between the teams of Kibbutz Yasour and Hasoleim.

The plaque dedicating the field to the memory of Lieut. Richard Glasberg, U.S.A.F., who was killed in a crash last year, was unveiled in the presence of his mother, Mrs. Elliot Glasberg, of New Rochelle, New York, a former National Vice-President of Hadassah, who is here on a visit from the U.S.

The money for the field was donated to the Kibbutz by the Westchester Region of the Zionist Organization of America.

St. George Rites Held at Lydda

By CHAIM ELIAOU

Jerusalem Post Reporter

LYDDA. — With the traditional sacrifice of a lamb, a colorful ceremony marking the feast of St. George was celebrated at St. George's Cathedral here yesterday.

Several hundred people, including young women, Moslem patriars, diplomats and U.N. officials from all parts of Israel, as well as from Jordan, converged here to attend a solemn high mass in the Cathedral. All Orthodox communities representing Greece, Egypt, Abyssinia, and Russia were present.

Others present at the ceremony were the Rame and Lydda District officers, Police representatives, the Greek Diplomatic Representative, Mr. Paul Pandermalis, and the Greek Consul, Mr. N. Argyrios.

Metropolitan Isidoros, of Galilee, officiated in the Cathedral with a stately and the Casbah-like ruins and lanes of the Old City of Lydda, and next to Lydda's old Moslem mosque. The present church was constructed on the ruins of an older church built by Emperor Constantine.

According to tradition, St. George of Cappadocia was martyred in Lydda in the year 300 C.E. He is the patron saint of both Christian and Moslem Arabs, as well as patron saint of England, Arson and Portugal.

Dressed in gold ceremonial robes and wearing a diamond-studded crown, Metropolitan Isidoros led the procession of a dozen priests into the crypt under the church where the remains of St. George lie in a marble-topped tomb. Tradition says St. George slayed the dragon that threatened the virgin Andromeda.

The Metropolitan was assisted by the new Chief of the Russian Mission in Israel, Archimandrite Agapios.

Prix Goncourt for Novel About Nazi Persecution

PARIS (Reuters). — The Prix Goncourt, the most famous French literary prize, was awarded on Monday to 31-year-old M. André Schwarz-Bart for "Le Dernier des Justes" (The Last of the Just).

This is a novel about Nazi racial persecutions during the Second World War.

The author's father and mother were Jews who emigrated from Poland in 1924 and were deported from France during the War.

WHAT A MAN!

GAUHATI, Assam, India (Reuters). An 11-foot skeleton, believed to be human, has been unearthed at the building site of a college in south-west Assam, according to the college secretary quoted by a local newspaper.

The site is at Tura, capital of the autonomous Garo Hills District of Western Assam, near the border with East Pakistan.

The daily "Assam Tribune" quoted the secretary as saying that one of the bones of the giant skeleton was as big as the arm of a normal man.

The skeleton, with its head towards the east, was found in a stone bed with some charcoal about four feet below the ground, the report said.

Sheriff's Prelude

On Paris Radio

M. Jean Martinon will conduct the first performance in France of No. 10 of the "Festival Prelude" with the Paris Radio Orchestra on November 28, the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra announced yesterday.

A few days later the work will be broadcast by the Radio-diffusion française.

The conductor, who returns to Paris on Friday after having spent several weeks with the I.P.O., is taking a number of works by Israeli composers with him which he hopes the French radio orchestra will perform.

NEW GUEST HOUSE

The cornerstone laying of the new I.P.O. guest house near the Ramat Aviv Hotel in Tel Aviv is scheduled to take place next Tuesday and today, as reported yesterday, the I.P.O. has informed us.

Partly Cloudy Today, Getting Fair Later

Today's weather will be partly cloudy, becoming fair, according to the weatherman at the Lydda Airport Meteorological Station.

Yesterday, it rained in various parts of the country, with heavy showers in some places. A depression over the eastern Mediterranean was responsible.

Venezuela Wants Israel Farm Experts

LYDDA AIRPORT. — "I am very impressed by Israel's agricultural achievements and have asked the Ministry of Agriculture to send Venezuela experts in soil conservation, citrus growing and poultry breeding," said the Venezuelan Minister of Agriculture, Dr. Victor Jimenez Landinez, at his departure on Monday. He also announced the establishment of a scholarship for an Israel student at the Venezuela Institute of Forestry Research.

The Israel Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Kadish Luz, senior officials from the Ministry of Agriculture and Foreign Affairs, were at the Airport to bid Dr. Jimenez farewell. The Venezuelan party flew by Olympic Airways to Athens.

Only One Case Of Syphilis Last Year

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Only one new case of syphilis was reported last year, as against seven in 1957, according to a Ministry of Health general report for 1958 which has just been published. To the extent that reports to the district health bureaus are reliable, syphilis and gonorrhea are not a serious problem in Israel, the report states. Nevertheless, the sources of gonorrhea are generally not traced, this disease remains a potential danger.

There were 150 new known cases of gonorrhea in 1958, half of them in Haifa. Last year there was one case of syphilis at birth, compared with three in 1957.

The numbers of syphilis and gonorrhea cases reported in 1958 were 349 and 173, respectively. In 1957, 401 and 304.

Natanya Gets Mapai Mayor

Jerusalem Post Reporter

NATANYA. — Mr. David Fuchs of Mapai will be Mayor of Natanya at the head of a Mapai, National Religious Party and General Zionist coalition.

An agreement between these parties was signed at 2 a.m. Monday morning, giving them a 9-4 majority. If Abdu Ha'voda also joins the coalition, it will have 10 councilors.

The last mayor was a Progressive, Mr. Moshe Shaked. Of the three deputy mayors, only Mr. Eliezer Riegler (National Religious Party) will receive a salary. He was Deputy Mayor when Mr. Oved Ben-Ami was in office.

Mapai will head the Finance and Administration Department, the National Religious Party, Education and Social Welfare Departments, and the General Zionists, the Services Department.

For the past 30 years, Natanya has been dominated for the most part by the Bnei Binyamin, a local party composed of the founders of the city. Today the opposition is composed of two Herut and three Progressive. The Progressives who received an additional mandate in the present election wished to form a coalition with Mapai.

They insisted that Mr. Shaked be mayor, a condition which Mapai did not accept.

Mapai suggested that Mr. Shaked be deputy mayor, but the Progressives would not agree. After the new coalition was formed the Progressives indicated that they wished to join, but the main portfolio had already been allocated. The door has been left open for the Progressives should they still wish to join.

Mr. Fuchs is a senior official in the Ministry of Agriculture.

Labour Coalition Is Set Up in Safad

Jerusalem Post Reporter

SAFAD. — Mapai and Mapam agreed yesterday to establish a Labour coalition in the Municipal Council. The National Religious Party is also expected to join.

Mayor A. Hachala, who heads the coalition, said that the door was open to any party wishing to join. The only condition was that the religious and economic status quo in the city would be maintained.

Mapai has four seats on the 11-member council, Mapam and the National Religious Party one each.

Wholesale Tomato Prices Lowered in Capital

POST Economic Reporter

The first day of reduced wholesale tomato prices in Jerusalem brought no tangible change in the retail prices in the city's green-grocer shops.

The wholesale price was lowered on Sunday to 150 pruta a kilogram in the hope that the price reduction would be passed on to the consumer and would induce increased consumption and eliminate surpluses which have been piling up recently.

The reduction was made possible by government aid to the wholesalers.

On Monday most shops in the Mahane Yehuda market sold tomatoes for 250 and 300 pruta and more, while prices in neighbourhood shops were even higher.

It had been intended to test the effect of the price reduction in Jerusalem and if it succeeded in encouraging consumption there, the programme was to have been introduced in other cities.

Growers' Price Fixed For Local Rice

POST Economic Reporter

The price of locally-grown rice has been set at IL400 a ton for the grower, the Ministry of Agriculture spokesman announced in Jerusalem on Monday. Wholesale and retail prices for the local rice will be the same as those for imported rice.

The difference between the price of the locally-grown rice and the higher one for imported rice will be taken up by means of a special government levy, the spokesman said.

This year's yield of local rice is estimated at about 100 tons, or somewhat more than five per cent of Israel's annual consumption.

Stowaway Longs To Return Home

HAIFA. — A 17-year-old youth who arrived in the s.s. Theodor Herzl as a stowaway on Sunday evening was arrested on disembarking.

Julio David boarded the ship in Marseilles. He told Police he had lived in Israel but had to emigrate to France with his parents four years ago. Longing for this country, he escaped from home and stowed away.

5 Surgeons Fly to Bedside Of Injured Israeli Boy in Accra

Jerusalem Post Reporter

ACCRA. — Five brain surgeons, flown in urgently from Britain, France, Israel and Morocco, carried out a preliminary investigation on Monday on head injuries suffered by an eight-year-old Israeli boy, Ram Kadi, critically hurt in a road accident on Saturday.

Latest news was that his condition had shown a "marked improvement."

(Koi Yisrael reported last night that the doctors had decided to postpone for two days their decision on whether to operate on the boy.)

The surgeons had been summoned through cooperation by the Ghanaian High Commission in London, the Israeli Embassy in Accra, and an alert American radio amateur.

The boy was injured when a car, driven by Mr. Eytan Kaufman, a Solei Boneh engineer working in Ghana, was involved in an accident while returning from a beach 35 miles east of Accra on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Kaufman was killed, while her husband and Ram's sister, Amira, were also injured.

Mrs. Kaufman's body will be flown to Israel for burial.

Premier Kwame Nkrumah ordered that everything possible be done to save Ram's life.

The Ghanaian High Commission in London was asked to contact a leading British brain specialist, Dr. Harvey Jackson. He arrived here on Monday.

Meanwhile an amateur radio operator in Greenville, North Carolina, who overheard an emergency call on Saturday night from Accra to Israel for the services of a brain surgeon, sent a message to the Israeli Embassy in Washington.

The Embassy contacted the State Department and, as a result, two American naval surgeons from Port Lyautey

Foot-Mouth Fight Succeeding

Jerusalem Post Reporter

The efforts of the Ministry of Agriculture's Foot and Mouth Headquarters to keep the disease in a restricted area has met with a great degree of success. New infections are being reported only from the Central District.

The Ministry's spokesman said that except for Kibbutz Yir'on in the north and the Arab village of Tuba in the Hula Valley, no new cases of the disease have been reported outside the affected district. This district extends from Yibneh in the South, past Ramle, Lydda and Rosh Hayin (the eastern boundary) and the line from Petah Tikva to the sea (the northern boundary).

So far about 2,000 head of cattle have been infected with the disease, but the epidemic has been stopped, as it had not proved very effective in warding off other cases.

The Ministry's Veterinary Institute has in the meantime succeeded in developing a live virus vaccine against the Asian type virus which is the cause of the present outbreak. The vaccine is being tested in the field and 1,500 head of cattle have already been vaccinated.

The spokesman stated unequivocally that there was no danger whatsoever to humans eating meat from slaughtered infected animals or drinking milk from infected cows.

All Precautions Taken

He emphasized that all the precautions that the Ministry of Health had recommended to the public had been taken to isolate infected herds and to prevent the spread of the disease to other herds. They were being taken to safeguard the human population, which he said was not in any danger of being infected.

He added that the Ministry of Health had recommended that persons being infected by the disease since the outbreak of the present epidemic.

In the Central District, which is the seat of the infection, stringent measures have been taken to prevent its further spread. Farmssteads have been strictly quarantined and Ministry inspectors are controlling and manning checkpoints to guarantee that the restrictions against the transport of sheep and cattle from one place to another are being observed.

Cattle may be transported to slaughterhouses only by special permit. All infected cattle are directed only to the slaughterhouses in Ramat Gan, while all the other slaughterhouses have been kept free of diseased animals.

Milk from infected farmssteads is taken to dairies in special tankers to eliminate the possibility that farm trucks might spread the disease by way of the dairies.

U.J.A. Leaders Visit Or Yehuda Ma'bara

TEL AVIV. — The difficult conditions under which families with many children live in the Or Yehuda Ma'bara deeply moved several of the large group of the United Jewish Appeal Study Mission who spent 90 minutes here on Monday.

Members of the delegation also visited emergency workers and heard descriptions of their economic conditions.

Later, Mr. Mordchai Ben-Porat, head of the Local Council, said that the village had raised only IL10,000 towards the IL150,000 needed to build a culture centre.

The Mission later went on to Haifa where it will be today.

Bandaged Kintzi Goes to Party

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — The Mayor of Ramat Gan, Mr. Abraham Kintzi, attended a private party last night in bandages.

The accident occurred at Tel Hashomer Hospital for the party and returned later in the evening.

Mr. Kintzi fell and broke his arm over the weekend and has been under treatment since. He is expected to return home shortly.

Woman Badly Hurt By Scooter

TEL AVIV. — A pedestrian crossing Rehov Yavne was struck head-on by a Vespa motor-scooter yesterday, and suffered serious injuries.

The victim, Mrs. Hanna Ashet, 25, of Tel Aviv, was taken to Hadassah Hospital, where her condition was reported to be critical.

The driver was held for questioning.

Boy's Scar May Get Him a Father

A father and son, who had been separated since the Nazi invasion of Poland, have applied to the Jerusalem District Court to declare them "father and son" on the basis of a scar on the boy's body. The application was heard on Monday.

The father, Aharon Machal, lost sight of his son after the boy, then a baby, had undergone a surgical operation. The father escaped to Russia and eventually reached Israel where he settled in Beersheba.

The son, who was also saved from concentration camps, was given the name of Ludvig Eisenberg by one of the Jewish families who sheltered him. He finally reached Israel.

The boy asked the editor of a Yiddish newspaper published in Tel Aviv to print his picture which might then be recognized by any member of his family who might have survived. The father recognized the picture as that of his son. Since then, they have been living together.

However, they want their relationship made legal. This could be done only by proving that the scar was at the spot where the father remembered it to be.

The Court has asked for medical evidence upon which to base its decision. (Nim)

NEGEV MINE TRAGEDY: Were There Adequate Warning Signs, Inquiry Committee Asks

Jerusalem Post Reporter

The committee of inquiry into the death of three schoolgirls in a mine explosion near Eilat during Succot week devoted most of its attention yesterday to the question of whether the mined area had been adequately marked.

A sapper, Mr. Eli Frankel, testified that a major from the Area Command who had arrived at the scene of the explosion together with him, had found a "D a g e r" — "Mines" sign on the ground and hung it on the ground.

Later, when the major took the stand, he was asked what urgency there had been to hang up the sign, when the dead girls were still lying on the ground. He replied that he had done this automatically, with no particular motive.

Q: But some people might get the impression that you did this to get the investigation to think that the sign had been there all along?

A: I don't know the sign on the ground and put it up.

He admitted that the sign might have been on the ground, face down, even before the explosion. In that case, the girls — if they did not know that a red, triangular sign signified a mine area — would have had no warning of the danger. But he added that the very fact that the area had been fenced off by barbed wire was enough to keep anybody from entering it.

The witness agreed that by picking up the sign he had made it impossible for investigators to determine whether the sign had fallen down during the explosion or some time before.

The major testified towards the beginning of his testimony, and the hearing had to be adjourned. When it was resumed in the afternoon, it transpired that he

Subterranean Water In Jerusalem Not 'New'

TEL AVIV. — The Director of the Planning Department (Water Planning for Israel Ltd.) on Monday denied newspaper reports (not in The Jerusalem Post) concerning the discovery of "new" subterranean water in the vicinity of Jerusalem.

The continued exploitation of one well, sunk in the vicinity of Jerusalem, showed a yield of up to 100 cubic metres of water hourly, without any decline in the level of the subterranean water level, Mr. Kantor told The Post.

This was considered a good indication of stability of ground reserves. Two additional wells may be drilled in the area.

But the combined output of the three wells, at best, is not expected to exceed 30 per cent of Jerusalem's requirements, or 7,500 cubic metres of the 35,000 cubic metres supplied to the entire district.

The relatively rich water reserve by no means disproves earlier theories that subterranean strata in the Jerusalem area slant eastwards, and the consequently much underground water in the area drains off into the Jordan, Mr. Kantor added.

The sinking of the new well is expected to cost approximately IL150,000 for each drilling.

Sailor Stabbed On Turkish Ship

HAIFA. — A Turkish sailor from the s.s. Path was seriously wounded on Monday morning after he was stabbed, allegedly, by the ship's cook.

The injured man, N. Oester, was taken to the Rothschild Hospital with a shoulder stab. By Monday evening police were still unable to get a statement from him because of his condition.

The cook, Attallah Kalush, has been arrested.

The police stated that Oester had entered the kitchen and started arguing with the cook over the freshness of the bread. When Oester allegedly hit the cook, the latter is said to have stabbed him.

Agency Employees Will Be Upgraded

The Jewish Agency Executive decided yesterday to upgrade all employees who were in their grade for at least three years as of April 1, 1959. Agency employees had threatened to go out on a general strike if their demands were not met.

The National Secretariat of the Clerical Workers Union decided yesterday to withdraw the strike threat. It is understood that the terms offered by the Agency largely met the Union's demands.

With regard to employees in grades 6-11, the Executive will automatically grant all requests for upgrading, except where department heads object on the grounds that this would have an adverse effect on smooth operations, an official statement stated yesterday.

Employees in grade 5 and higher will have their requests considered on an individual basis, but "in a liberal spirit."

Seniority pay will be paid as in the civil service.

Where the management and the employees' representatives disagree, the question will be referred to Mr. David Bet-Aryeh, a member of the Executive, and Mr. Yehoshua Levy, executive secretary of the Clerical Workers Union. It was said.

The questions of overtime and allowances for room and board for employees away from their regular office ("eshet") will be the subject of future discussions.

700 Jerusalemites See Fashion Show

More than 700 Jerusalemites went to the King David Hotel last night to see the Italian Winter 1960 Fashion Show.

Six mannequins modelled the latest Italian house couture. For the first time in Israel, polka-dots and nightwear were shown.

Proceeds from the show will go to The Jerusalem Post-Hanukkah Toy Fund.

Swope Chairs Set Up At Haifa Technion

HAIFA. — Four chairs in memory of the American industrialist, Gerard Swope and his wife, Mary Hill Swope, have been established at the Technion, the Institute of Technology, announced on Monday.

The Chair in Electrical Engineering will be held by Prof. Franz Ollendorf. Architecture by Prof. Yochanan Ratner. Mechanics by Prof. Markus Reiner and Physics by Prof. Nathan Rosen.

The Technion has also established scholarships and student loan funds in the name of Gerard Swope, former President of the General Electric Corp., who willed his fortune to the Technion Society. Several hundred students have already benefited from the funds.
